

system??

???????

????????????????, ???

Description:
Tone Spread Technology Repair Center provides various types of communication equipment and other maintenance services, intensive repairs of various RF Repeaters, Fiber Repeaters, RF systems, test instruments, etc.; other circuit modules, etc. also have rich experience and actual results. The maintenance team also has excellent maintenance capabilities and high quality, and can repair various components according to customer needs.

Engineering improvement and development
In addition to providing equipment maintenance services, Tone Spread Technology Maintenance Center will provide the most favorable and relevant services that meet the needs of all equipment and devices in the technology industry system that need to be modified, functionally improved or parts developed.

